This is a great read-a-long book for any family. The lessons in it are many. From leadership to caring to acting and planning, your kids will get the message whether they read it themselves or you read it with them. (I recommend reading it with them. Its fun!)Plus the illustrations are colorful and perfect for young minds. It even comes with a "Plan of Action" list in the back in case your child says "I want to help someone."

This is a great book for parents and teachers who want to show their children that one person can make difference-no matter what the age. This young boy saw a need in people far from where he lived and discovered a way to reach out to them. It's a must for every classroom and family. At the end of the story, there are steps for children to use to "Imagine If" they, too, can make a difference in the lives of others.

IMAGINE IF.... Our church finished a week of Vacation Bible School at the end of June. Several of the daily lessons were be thankful and help others. IMAGINE IF teaches both lessons in such practical ways. It also shows children how a small idea can make such a BIG difference in lives of others. Great family and one on one reading.

Being the grandmother of twelve, I think this book should be in every families library. It lets children of any age know that if they can think it, they can do it and make a difference. It teaches them to be thoughtful of others and it's okay to help even if you are just one person.

What a great story to share with our children. It helps teach them that anyone can make a difference and help someone in need no matter how great or small. This is a great book for the whole family with a message that delivers! Check it out!
