Debbie Macomber CD Collection 4: Hannah's List, A Turn In The Road

Synopsis

Hannah's List On the anniversary of his beloved wife's death, Dr. Michael Everett receives a letter Hannah had written him. In it she reminds him of her love and makes one final request. An impossible request – I want you to marry again. She tells him he shouldn't spend the years he has left grieving her. And to that end she's chosen three women she asks him to consider. First on Hannah's list is her cousin, Winter Adams, a trained chef who owns a café on Seattle's Blossom Street. The second is Leanne Lancaster, Hannah's oncology nurse. Michael knows them both. But the third name is one he's not familiar with – Macy Roth. Each of these three women has her own heartache, her own private grief. More than a year earlier, Winter broke off her relationship with another chef. Leanne is divorced from a man who defrauded the hospital for which she works. And Macy lacks family of her own, the family she craves, but she's a rescuer of strays, human and animal. Macy is energetic, artistic, eccentric – and couldn't be more different from Michael. During the months that follow, he spends time with Winter, Leanne, and Macy, learning more about each of them – and about himself. Learning what Hannah already knew. He's a man who needs the completeness only love can offer. And Hannah's list leads him to the woman who can help him find it.

A Turn in the Road In the middle of the year, in the middle of her life, Bethanne Hamlin takes a road trip with her daughter, Annie, and her former mother-in-law, Ruth. They're driving to Florida for Ruth's 50th high-school reunion. A longtime widow, Ruth would like to reconnect with Royce, the love of her teenage life. She's heard he's alone, too...and, well, she's curious. Maybe even hopeful. Bethanne herself needs time to reflect, to ponder a decision she has to make. Her ex-husband, Grant – her children's father – wants to reconcile now that his second marriage has failed. Bethanne's considering it.... Meanwhile, Annie's out to prove to her onetime boyfriend that she can live a brilliant life without him! So there they are, three women driving across America. They have their maps and their directions – but even the best-planned journey can take you to a turn in the road. Or lead you to an unexpected encounter – like the day Bethanne meets a man named Max who really is a hero on a Harley. That's when Bethanne's decision becomes a lot harder. Because Grant wants her back, but now there's Max.... From Seattle's Blossom Street to the other end of the country, this is a trip that could change three women's lives.

Debbie Macomber, the author of Hannah's List, 1022 Evergreen Place, Summer on Blossom Street, 92 Pacific Boulevard, and Twenty Wishes, is a leading voice in women's fiction. Three of her novels have scored the #1 slot on the New York Times, USA Today, and Publishers Weekly bestseller lists. Debbie Macomber's Mrs. Miracle was Hallmark Channel's top-watched movie for 2009. Winner of the 2005 Quill Award for Best Romance, the prolific author has more than 140 million copies of her books in print worldwide. Joyce Bean is an accomplished audiobook narrator and director. In addition to being an AudioFile Earphones Award winner, she has been nominated multiple times for a prestigious Audie Award. Equally adept at narrating fiction and nonfiction, her titles include Blue Diary by Alice Hoffman, Blue Smoke by Nora Roberts, and several Jayne Ann Krentz novels. Joyce lives in West Michigan.

I have been listening to the Blossom Street series through in order, and just finished these two books. They were both well-written and kept me interested throughout, but I have to say that A Turn in the Road has been my favorite Blossom Street book so far! Hannah's List was pretty much a stand-alone that could be read in any order. One of the peripheral characters owns the French Cafe where Alex works, but that's the only link I can recall to any of the other Blossom Street books. I don't think Debbie has done as good of a job connecting this series as she did with Cedar Cove. It seemed with Cedar Cove, the characters would pop up in nearly every book in some way or another. I'm not even through with this series yet, and already there have been several stand-alone books that really have little to nothing to do with the rest of the series. That irritates me, because when I read a series I want it to feel like a continuation of the previous book. But, the books are still good. A Turn in the Road brings us back to BethAnn Hamlin, whose husband left her in one of the earlier books. She embarks on a road trip with her ex mother-in-law and her daughter. The book is written very well and keeps the reader engaged in the story. I can't put my finger on what exactly I loved so much about this book, but it was great. I'd definitely recommend it - even as a stand-alone read. :) I almost docked a star because I think Summer on Blossom Street actually came out BETWEEN these two books. I hate reading things out of order, so this really irritated me when I found out. I just started that book now, and so far it hasn't overlapped at all. I'll update my rating if it turns out that it should be read between Hannah's List and A Turn in the Road.

I loved this book and I plan on getting more of her books. I loved the second book that came with this set even more!

great series- arrived promptly - worked great!

light reading , feel good story - quite enjoyable

Listened to these on a long trip. Wonderful entertainment and made the trip go much faster.

Great story

More books from the series. They are as great as all the rest of the books. Very good reading for anyone.

This was great for my commute.
