The Clipper Ship Sebastopol: New Zealand Immigration Ship 1861-1863 (Ancestral Journeys Of New Zealand)

Synopsis

The Sebastopol was a fine clipper ship that made two voyages from London, England to Lyttelton, New Zealand loaded with immigrants for the Provincial Government. From Chinese passengers staging a mutiny, to the suicide of a ship's surgeon, the Sebastopol has an interesting past. Extensive research has uncovered the ship's final demise after leaving New Zealand in 1863, which ended its short career. This is the first time the full story of the Sebastopol has been told, with the most accurate passenger lists available for the Sebastopol journeys."

Was so pleased to finally find out something about the voyages of the Sebastopol. My Grandmother Elizabeth Pearce who was 9 years old at the time was a passenger on the ships second voyage and I have always had difficulty finding out anything about her travels to New Zealand. Thanks for your prompt delivery.RegardsRhoda Margaret Kerby

The book has helped to sort out a long problem re my G.G Father who came out on the 1861 trip, plus the history of the ship was interesting. thank you and Belinda Lansley for making the book available.Colin ZuppichHamiltonNew Zealand

I really did appreciate the crew and passenger listing for the 1863 voyage to NZ.However I expected to read more about Dr. Galbraith as to when he joined the crew and what he did on board the SEBASTOPOL during the 4 months at sea. How much of that time was he, my maternal great great grandfather, intoxicated ?
